Good morning, Tim!

This is Diana, the gal from the other day who spoke with you regarding the art installation proposal. I have attached a google document with the proposal for your board to look over. I apologize for not presenting this to you in person, I have to work a double today!

I hope this provides a clear picture of what we are hoping to do and I have given some links that may better explain the project too!

Thank you so much for all of your help and advice with this...fingies crossed! Do you recommend that I come on Tuesday?

All the best and have a great weekend!
